

BECAUSE OF

2016 annual report overview

ONCE EACH YEAR, THE SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION

publishes a report describing what has been accomplished and detailing the contributions that made it so. An annual report is a way of celebrating and thanking. The moments that make up this report occur every day, some visible and some not quite so.

STUDENTS come first.

Every dollar expended and every program described in this report is determined first by its value to students of the St. Louis metropolitan region who have all that they need to pursue postsecondary education except the financial wherewithal.

The Scholarship Foundation provides students with direct financial support, guidance, and opportunity to engage and succeed. What can't be captured in text or photography is the contagious love of learning and the deep gratitude students convey for chances and second chances.

DONORS make gifts of precious resources because they believe in the students seeking support.

Listed here are gifts of varying size and purpose from individuals, foundations, and corporations, including those from individuals who have given $180 annually for 30 years, national foundations giving three-year grants of $300,000, an area healthcare corporation funding a new and major scholarship, graduates buying grocery gift cards for today's students, and so many more. The circles of giving and receiving that undergird The Scholarship Foundation are significant symbols of a diverse and interconnected community.

VOLUNTEERS offer amazingly varied skills.

For 57 years in ScholarShop, volunteers have performed every aspect of a retail operation; they've sorted clothing, operated cash registers, counted pennies, and dusted fixtures. Board members volunteer time, thought, resources, and connections to sustaining and strengthening the work of The Scholarship Foundation. The Scholarship Foundation is grateful for gardening, accounting, data retrieval, document filing, real estate advice, and student application review contributed by volunteers listed here. An invaluable network of relationships have formed around the work, resulting in shared meals, celebrations of life events, and strong support at times of sadness.

WITHIN THE SUMMARY INFORMATION THAT FOLLOWS, as well as the links to detailed information on the Foundation website, readers will find clues to the ways The Scholarship Foundation grows in reach and purpose. It is not possible to measure the impact of all the acts of kindness and relationships of trust that seem to truly change lives, but the reader is advised to trust that they are plentiful and powerful.

designated SCHOLAR LOANS

Designated Scholar Loans (DSLs) are a special type of interest-free loan established in memory or in honor of one or more significant individuals. DSLs offer options for personal contact between donors and students. Each DSL is awarded by The Scholarship Foundation to an individual qualified for an interest-free loan.

Donors may establish a DSL with a gift or pledge of $30,000 or more, payable in full or in five annual installments. For more information about DSLs or any other giving option, please call The Scholarship Foundation at 314-725-7990.

If highlighted, the named loan was established or expanded since January 1, 2016.

special thanks TO OUR DONORS

Contributors are listed in the giving category commensurate with the total of their contributions and pledges made to The Scholarship Foundation of St. Louis from January 1, 2016 through December 31, 2016. Such contributions include gifts made to the Foundation's annual campaign; gifts to the Bravo Fund; bequests and planned gifts; major gifts to the Designated Scholar Loan (DSL) Program; and gifts given to special projects. Tribute contributions are listed in the Foundation's newsletters.

For more information, please contact Executive Director Faith Sandler or External Relations Director Karin McElwain-West at 314-725-7990.

If you wish to make your annual contribution now, an envelope is enclosed. This will save us postage and will save you from receiving future mailings. Thank you.

our MISSION

In 1920, The Scholarship Foundation of St. Louis was founded as a committee of the National Council of Jewish Women by a group of women who believed that the key to a democratic society was an educated populace. They were concerned about families not being able to afford higher education, yet together, they were able to improve access to higher education for low-income students in the St. Louis community.

The Scholarship Foundation continues to believe that education transforms the lives of individuals and families who are then able to advance the economic and civic health of society. In its efforts to build a more prosperous and democratic community, The Scholarship Foundation provides access to postsecondary education to thousands annually through financial assistance, information, guidance, education policy advocacy, and collaborative work.

The Scholarship Foundation awards interest-free, fee-free loans and grants so students can earn postsecondary degrees and return to their communities to help society flourish. Alumni then repay their loans and community members, foundations, and corporations donate gifts to support students. Every dollar raised, every interest-free loan awarded, and each degree completed is another step toward access to higher education for all students who have the potential and desire to succeed.
