THE Scholarship
Foundation
OF ST. LOUIS

The Scholarship Foundation of St. Louis, a nonprofit organization founded in 1920, is based upon the conviction that an educated society is essential to a healthy democracy.

The Scholarship Foundation provides access to postsecondary education to members of our community who otherwise would not have the financial means to fulfill their educational goals.

ABOUT US

The Scholarship Foundation of St. Louis was founded in 1920 on the belief in the transformative power of higher education to improve individual lives, uplift families, strengthen communities, and ensure the vitality of society. The Scholarship Foundation provides access to postsecondary education to members of the community who otherwise would not have the financial means to fulfill their educational goals.

The Scholarship Foundation provides direct financial support in the form of renewable interest-free loans and grants to students throughout the St. Louis community and beyond. Additionally, the Foundation provides non-financial support through its Student Advising Program, which helps high school students prepare to go to college and supports college students to successfully complete their degrees. The Scholarship Foundation helps lead a collaborative network of community and educational partners dedicated to ensuring that deserving students have access to postsecondary education and contributes to enlightened public policy through advocacy for its vision of college access for all.

The Scholarship Foundation is funded through repayment of interest-free loans and donations from individuals, foundations, and corporations.

ESSENTIAL CHARACTERISTICS OF STUDENT PROGRAMS

All Scholarship Foundation programs, including those it operates in partnership with other organizations, are based upon the following principles:

Identity and Personal Information

The Foundation will:

- Treat students fairly and consistently, and not discriminate on the basis of race, gender, age, disability, religion, sexual orientation, ethnicity, or membership in any protected class.
- Hold personal and identifying information as confidential, and not attribute or share it with third parties without permission of the student.
- Safeguard identifying and financial information.
- Invite but not require students to participate in publicity or media appearances, without the student's decision whether to participate having an impact on award decisions.

Student Stories

The Foundation will:

- State transparently the intention and goal(s) when borrowing a student's story, returning to the student to ask permission each time the story is shared anew.
- Make clear to students that they are under no obligation to share personal stories, will experience no repercussions for declining, and have the final editing authority.
- Provide training, skill-building, and support for student storytellers, always providing compensation to students for their time.
- Ensure informed consent, which includes discussing risk and safety and always placing student well-being first.
- Not dictate, prescribe, or script anyone's story; commit to storytelling from a point of strength and not victimization.

Funding

The Foundation will:

- Select students on the basis of financial need, academic potential, and character.
- Disburse interest-free loans and grants directly to students and/or safeguard against displacement.

Opening Doors to Education

- Provide annual opportunity to apply for renewal in all student funding programs until degree completion or up to ten semesters (depending on program), at minimum.
- Review each complete application carefully, thoughtfully, and in consideration of the context and circumstance of the applicant.
- Exercise due diligence in financial aid packaging, so that awards are not made if excessive debt would result and/or the student will be insufficiently funded.
- Select students on the basis of qualifications without influence from other considerations such as donor input or personal relationships.

Advice/Guidance

The Foundation will:

- Seek open, honest communication with students.
- Encourage students to practice self-determination and to learn self-advocacy.
- Treat students as unique individuals.
- Offer advice and guidance to help students succeed but not obligate students to follow such advice.
- Discourage students from unnecessary borrowing.
- Respect student's choice of school of attendance; however, the Foundation will not fund students attending schools not within the eligibility guidelines or students whose financial aid packages at their school of choice leave them insufficiently funded or in excessive debt.
- Provide students with clear information about repayment and debt management options, both in groups and individually, that will serve them throughout college years and beyond.

Relationship

The Foundation will:

- Keep information learned from the student in advising conversations separate from award decisions, provided that information does not affect the student's eligibility for any Foundation program(s) in which the student is participating.
- Discuss a student's information with the student only unless the student gives permission for a third party to be involved.
- Provide opportunities for a student to regain good standing when the student loses funding due to insufficient academic progress or a failure to meet deadlines.
- Seek to establish and maintain relationships of respect, trust, clear communication, and mutual accountability with students.
- Maintain primary relationship with the student, though that relationship may also be initiated or strengthened in concert with nonprofit community partners.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Students must meet and maintain the following eligibility requirements:

Academic Potential: A minimum cumulative 2.0 GPA is required. In addition, the transcript needs to show evidence of academic ability in the selected major, progress in increasingly rigorous coursework, and focus. If your GPA falls below 2.0 GPA, you may be considered for funding provided you submit a statement explaining your circumstances and a plan to improve your grades. Your Student Advisor may also be able to help you understand your options and support you.

Strength of Character: Applications are reviewed for evidence of honesty, forthrightness, responsibility, sense of community, and judgment.

Financial Need: With the increasing cost of education and decreasing sources of financial support, St. Louis area students are demonstrating increased levels of financial need. The Scholarship Foundation offers financial support to these students, but we also want to ensure that students and their families don't take on excessive debt. For this reason, The Scholarship Foundation is very intentional about determining financial need. We use a simple formula:

Opening Doors to Education

DETERMINING YOUR AWARD

Cost of Education	$23,578	Tuition, fees, books, room and board, living expenses, etc.
Expected Family Contribution	– $2,315	Amount you and your family are expected to pay towards your education for the year
Grant Aid	– $16,500	Federal, state, private, institutional scholarships and grants
Unmet Financial Need	= $4,763	Amount remaining to fulfill cost of your education

Award amounts from the Foundation are based on each individual student's cost of attendance, EFC*, and grant aid. The amount a student is awarded for an academic year is expected to cover the remainder of unmet need, without the student borrowing elsewhere. If you think you need to borrow beyond the amount calculated by the Foundation or if extenuating circumstances affect your ability to afford the family contribution indicated above, please contact your advisor at The Scholarship Foundation. We can help you review your award and explore any available sources of funding to cover your expenses. It's important to us that you understand the calculations and get your questions answered.

Our commitment to college affordability is a priority. Unlike other loans you may be offered, student loans funded by the Foundation remain interest-free and fee-free during the life of the loan. You will only repay the Foundation the amount you borrow to complete your education. Students can turn down other loans, including Federal Stafford Loans, even after you have accepted them¹.

*The EFC (Expected Family Contribution) is the amount you and your family are expected to pay towards your education for the year. The figures are determined by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or an alternate Needs Assessment Form. It is also used by financial aid offices to determine your eligibility for federal, state, and some institutional financial aid.

 Historically, schools have reserved the option of publishing work study awards on financial aid award letters without guarantees for placement. This could result in insufficient financial resources needed to cover the full cost of attendance. Therefore, if a student can secure and verify a work study assignment for the academic year, the award amount will be included within the calculations to determine the unmet need.

¹ If you need assistance with declining Federal Direct Loans that have already been accepted, or even disbursed, please contact your Student Advisor for support and guidance.

THE RENEWAL PROCESS

All interest-free loans and grants provided by The Scholarship Foundation are renewable. This means you can continue to receive an interest-free loan and/or grant each year as long as you continue to meet our eligibility criteria and complete the renewal application every year you are in school.

How does the renewal process work?

Each January you will receive instructions on how to renew your funding for the following academic year. Eligibility for renewal is based on the three elements mentioned previously (academic potential, strength of character, financial need) and enrollment for the following academic year.

Renewal applications require the following documentation for consideration and must be submitted by April 15:

- Renewal Application: Must be completed online every year.
- FAFSA Submission Summary (FSS)² Download from the FAFSA website.
 - Or Needs Assessment Form (only use this form if you are ineligible for state & federal aid. Please reach out to teresa@sfstl.org if you have questions and to obtain the form).
- Official Academic Transcript: Order from your school. Unofficial transcripts will NOT be accepted on any renewal applications.

These documents are also required for consideration, but may be submitted separately to The Scholarship Foundation after April 15:

- Financial Aid Award Letter: For the following academic year (due August 1)
- Final Spring Semester Grades: For the current school year (must be received before your check can be issued)

It is important to stay in contact and notify us if any information about you, your plans, your circumstances, or contact information changes.

² The FAFSA Submission Summary replaces the Student Aid Report, or SAR, beginning with the 2024-25 FAFSA.

LIFE CYCLE OF AN INTEREST-FREE LOAN

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What happens to my loan if my funding is not renewed?

- You are eligible to defer payments on your interest-free loan if you are enrolled in at least six credit hours or more each semester, even if you are not receiving funds from The Scholarship Foundation in that academic year.
- If you find yourself in this situation, you must submit enrollment verification (i.e., enrollment letter, transcript, class schedule, etc.) each semester showing your credit hours.
- If you do not submit proof of enrollment, or you withdraw from school, your loan will go into repayment immediately.

When do I have to start making payments on my loan?

- You are eligible for a one-year grace period on your loan after graduation, only after signing a final promissory note. If you do not sign the promissory note your loan will go into repayment immediately without the grace period.
- One month before your grace period ends, you will receive a reminder via email and a letter will be mailed to your permanent home address. It is your responsibility to make sure your contact information with us is current.
- Payments are due the 15th of each month. Monthly payment amounts are individualized for each student and are based on your total loan balance, degree program and institution, and anticipated salary two years after graduation.

What do I do if I cannot afford my monthly payments?

- If you are experiencing financial difficulties, we are here to help! Start by going to <https://sfstl.org/repayment-assessment-instructions/> for complete instructions on how to fill out our online Repayment Assessment Form.
- We will review your information and work with you to determine a monthly payment that is manageable based on your income and monthly expenses, but also satisfies your obligation to repay your loan.
- Contact Scholarship Foundation Repayment Manager, Terri Brown, with questions or for assistance. She can be reached at terri@sfstl.org.

What happens if I go back to school after I've started paying on my loan?

- You are eligible to defer payments on your interest-free loan if you re-enroll in at least six credit hours or more each semester. Simply fill out the Educational Deferment Request form along with proof of enrollment (i.e. enrollment letter, transcript, class schedule, etc.) and send it to the Foundation. That's it!

KEY TAKEAWAYS

Relationships are important to us!

1. Advisor's Role: Each advisor has a personal experience as a student and professional experience as an advisor. Please consider us your first point of contact should you encounter any academic, financial, and/or personal questions or concerns.
 - a. Your advisor is here to advise you; you retain the right to make your own decisions.
 - b. Your advisor would like to hear about successes as much as challenges you encounter. The better we know you, the better we can support you!
2. Student's Role:
 - a. Know your rights (see page 2).
 - b. Stay in touch. Find ways to connect with your advisor, even if only once a semester.
 - c. Ask for help when you need it.
 - d. Take care of yourself and practice self-care. Balance school and your extracurricular life. Take breaks. Be kind to yourself.
3. We strive to be transparent: There is a bright line between advising and awarding at the Foundation. This bright line means advisors do not make or influence awards decisions; in addition, student conversations with advisors are confidential. Students can feel confident speaking honestly about their questions, concerns, and experiences. We want you to know what we know. There is no magic behind a curtain. If you have questions, please do not hesitate to ask your advisor!
4. Renewal: All funds are renewable!
 - a. Renewal requires only two documents (official academic transcript and FAFSA Submission Summary), which must be uploaded to an online renewal application. The renewal application is available for three-and-a-half months: January 1-April 15.
 - b. The deadline of April 15 is a hard deadline for all Foundation students.
 - c. Students who successfully meet the April 15th deadline are required to submit two additional documents for final consideration. Please refer to page 6.

We are here to answer your financial questions!

1. Award Math: *Your Scholarship Foundation award was calculated for you, to cover your unmet need. The Scholarship Foundation calculated your award using the cost of your school, your Expected Family Contribution (EFC) calculated by the FAFSA, and all your gift aid, awarded by all sources:

Cost of Attendance	(Including tuition, book, room & board, personal expenses, etc.)
- EFC	(Expected Family Contribution, calculated by FAFSA)
- Gift Aid	(Pell, Access Missouri, need-or merit-based grants/scholarships)
= UNMET NEED

2. Outside Borrowing: *Please do not borrow federally, in either your or your parent's name. If you find yourself with expenses that you cannot cover, please call us first. Remember, Scholarship Foundation loans are interest-free, fee-free always. If you have already accepted federal loans, know that you can return them. Your Advisor can help.

3. Make us your first stop: Have a financial emergency? Please call your advisor first. The Foundation may be able to help – even if it is just to identify additional and better resources.

4. Renewal: All Foundation funds are renewable! Renewing your aid – institutional aid, federal/state aid (if eligible), and your Scholarship Foundation funds matters for ongoing affordability. What does this mean?
 - a. For the 2024-25 academic year, the FAFSA will open in December 2023. Please be on the lookout for updates from your school and Foundation Student Advisor. Find FAFSA resources at fafsa.gov.
 - b. The Scholarship Foundation's renewal application opens each year on January 1st and is due April 15th. Renew your Scholarship Foundation funds at <https://stlouisgraduates.academicworks.com/>.

5. Repayment Portal: For information related to your account, you may visit this link. To log in, you will be asked to provide your email address and a verification code will be sent to you. Once received, enter the verification code and you will be able to review your payment history, make payments, view your balance, submit deferment or repayment reduction requests and more.

Create an environment that fosters academic success!

1. Create a support system: Identify the individuals, organizations, and groups that will help support you through college and consider what type of support you anticipate receiving. Remember, your Advisor is part of this network!
2. Practice Self-Advocacy: The Foundation encourages you to actively participate in all aspects of your educational experience. This includes but is not limited to speaking with professors after class and during office hours, identifying resources on campus that support your continued learning and growth as a student, and developing relationships with individuals on campus who can mentor you.
3. Understand the connection between academics and finances: Your academic success in college will impact your continued eligibility for financial aid and ability to renew financial support, including that of The Scholarship Foundation. Here are some things to know:
 - a. Grade Point Average: Virtually all aid has a GPA requirement for continued eligibility.
 - i. Federal Aid: 2.0 Cumulative GPA
 - ii. Access Missouri: 2.5 Cumulative GPA
 - iii. Scholarship Foundation: 2.0 Cumulative GPA
 - b. Credit Hours: How many credit hours you successfully complete can also impact aid eligibility.
 - c. Percentage of courses successfully passed: Even withdrawals and incompletes can impact this percentage.
 - d. Lifetime Pell Eligibility: Students may receive Pell Grants for no more than 12 semesters.
4. Get Involved: Engage in the courses, as well as the extracurriculars, organizations, and relationships that challenge your thinking; promote growth; and expand your knowledge, as your schedule allows.

We want you to succeed and are here to support you any way we can!

HOW CAN I BE MORE INVOLVED?

Fellowship Programs

The Foundation's Student-Led Advocacy Programs consist of four paid fellowships in different, but related content areas. This hands-on fellowship program consists of fellowships advocating at the federal, state, and institutional policy level to increase college access and affordability. Fellows are equipped with the resources, training, and context to advance a student-led agenda for higher education in Missouri. Students will be able to learn how historical, financial, and systems issues have impacted college accessibility and then explore campaigns that seek to get closer to equity in higher education. Fellows are trained by expert leaders in policy, advocacy, campaign building, race and racism in education, and much more. The overall goal is to ensure students who are primarily left out of these types of discussions are not only included in them, but able to lead them.

Contact Director of Advocacy Karina Arango at karina@sfstl.org for more information.

Designated Scholar Loan (DSL) Program

Designated Scholar Loans (DSL) are established by donors in memory or in honor of someone important to them. These donors share the Foundation's passion and commitment to education and want you to succeed as much as we do. The Foundation matches students with donors and connects them through written correspondence. As a Designated Scholar, you provide a personal link between our donors and their support of opportunities for higher education. By getting to know you, they gain more appreciation for the value of their support. Each DSL (over 300 in total) has a unique story to tell — of family, of commitment to the community, or in celebration of a loved one.

Volunteering to be a Designated Scholar is an opportunity to tell your story to those who have supported your education. You will have an opportunity to share your educational interests and activities, highlights or challenges you've experienced over the past semester, and any other information you choose to include. That's it! And as a token of our appreciation, if you are selected to write a personal letter, we will send you a $25 gift card to Target or Starbucks!

This is not an additional loan or grant; it is connected to the loan you are already receiving from The Scholarship Foundation. It is important to note that participation in the Designated Scholar Loan Program does not impact your future funding from The Scholarship Foundation and it does not change the terms of your loan or repayment.

Please contact info@sfstl.org for more information or to volunteer.

SAVING MONEY ON TEXTBOOKS

Tips, Hints, and Alternative Resources

Textbooks are expensive! However, they are important to the learning process. The Scholarship Foundation estimates you will spend approximately $1,650 on textbooks each year (this is included in your cost of attendance and is factored into all grant and/or interest-free loan awards from The Scholarship Foundation). However, just because textbooks are expensive, doesn't mean there aren't ways to save!

Buy Used: Most school bookstores offer used textbooks. This is a great way to save money, as new books often cost significantly more. Remember though, used textbooks go fast and it is first-come, first-served. Visit the bookstore early to take advantage of these opportunities!

Textbook Rental: Many schools now offer textbook rental programs. These are great programs which allow students to benefit from having the appropriate textbooks and materials but save on cost. Check with your institution to determine if they offer a rental program. You may also be able to take advantage of one of these programs:

- www.campusbooks.com: Searches other sellers and bookstores online and collects information on the condition, price, and shipping costs for buying or renting.
- www.chegg.com: Great product selection and books are available for purchase and rental. Chegg also buys textbooks!

Shop Around: Remember, you do not have to purchase a textbook from the on-campus bookstore. Yes, these places are convenient, but the mark-up and costs are high. Consider these alternatives:

- Local competitors: Some areas have independent textbook stores. Check near your college (or ask an older student!) for alternative locations where you may be able to buy textbooks at a more affordable price.
- Older or former students: Find an older student in your major; they may be willing to sell some of their textbooks to you!

Search Online: There are many great online opportunities. We recommend checking www.cheapesttextbooks.com. It does an online search of websites like E-Bay, Half.com, Amazon, etc.

Compare Editions: Sometimes you may have to buy the newest edition, but oftentimes the differences are subtle. You should check with your professor first, but if you don't absolutely need the newest edition, buy the older one.

Prioritize Purchases: Some books are more necessary than others. Review your syllabus or email the professor prior to class starting and determine which books you absolutely need—and which ones you need first. You may even be able to photocopy pages when only a chapter or two of the books are necessary.

Share Books: Pool resources with friends and classmates. Be careful though, you do each need to do the work separately. If you decide to share, create an agreement to determine how to divide up books for studying time, reading, and coursework.

Borrow from the Library! You must be prompt to take advantage of this opportunity, but many schools have textbooks in the library. See about borrowing the book; some school libraries offer extended borrowing times.

You can take charge of your finances and your life by setting financial goals, planning a budget, and sticking to it. The Scholarship Foundation's staff can help you with this.
